

ELOPED WITH CHILD'S BEAU

Gerry Agent Tells Remarkable Story in Court and Is Corroborated by Girl.

SHE IS MOTHER OF SEVEN

Mrs. Guisen, He Says, Fled with Her Own Mary's Sailor Sweetheart, but Daughter Forgave.

The story of a mother of seven children eloping with the handsome young sailor son of her own daughter was brought out today in the Central Court when Mrs. Annie Guisen, thirty-six years old, and pretty Mary Guisen, seventeen years old, were each held in $2,000 bail on the charge of attempted abduction of the baby of the family.

In the narrative related to Magistrate Brann by Agent King, of the Gerry Society, the older woman played the part of the erring mother, while the girl took the role of the wronged but forgiving daughter.

This is the story told by Agent King: Mrs. Guisen lived with her husband, Edward Guisen, a prosperous diamond polisher, at No. 127 Tenth street, Brooklyn. They had seven children, the eldest being Mary.

Mary was courted by Joseph Vandepuler, a handsome young sailor of twenty-two, who served aboard the Indiana. His affection met with a warm response not only from the daughter, but also from the mother.

However it came about no one can tell, but certain it is that Mrs. Guisen "cut out" her own child, Mary, and eloped with the handsome young tar.

The father traced the strange pair to a house in Brooklyn and had the sailor or chap arrested on a charge of deserting from the navy. He is now serving a term of imprisonment in the Boston Navy-Yard. Since Vandepuler's arrest Mrs. Guisen has been living as a domestic with a Mrs. Bruce at 65 Charles street, West Hook.

Now here is the most remarkable feature of the case.

Mary forgave her mother for all that had happened and kept up a steady correspondence with her.

Yesterday afternoon they met by appointment at the Manhattan end of the bridge. Mary brought Louis, fourteen months old, the youngest of the Guisen children, to see his mother.

How the two women came to leave the child on the sidewalk under the bridge and walk away in different directions is a matter of dispute.

Pollmen went to the Magistrate today that he saw the mother deliberately place the child on the ground and walk away toward the City Hall, while the daughter walked toward Brooklyn, and that he then arrested them for trying to abandon the little one.

Mary declared that the mother insisted on taking the baby with her and she let her have her way.

Mary, however, corroborated the story of the elopement told by Agent King.

Magistrate Brann held the women for a further examination on Friday in order to give Agent King a better opportunity to investigate this most remarkable case.

DOWN WITH FUNKERS.

Unemployed of Hudson River Make an Ugly Demonstration.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 11.—The difference between capital and labor are assuming aggravated proportions here. Hundreds of unemployed persons paraded this morning, shouting "Down with the Funkers."

They made such a threatening demonstration before the National Club and Social Club buildings that the police were obliged to charge and disperse them. Numbers of arrests were made.

Attractive Christmas Display.

A very attractive window designed with the latest season's color (milk green), mounted with all sizes of horseshoes, decorated with the latest designs of diamonds, watches and rich jewelry, is displayed by L. W. Sweet & Co., of No. 39 Maiden lane. A feature of this firm's business, who have been in the wholesale line over eighteen years, is that they have added a retail department for the accommodation of responsible parties who find it inconvenient to pay cash for holiday gifts. They have inaugurated a system by which immediate delivery can be made, the payments are divided to fit the income of the purchaser without missing, and no extra charge for credit.

In their large stock they have added a beautiful line of pearl and diamond brooches, also a full and complete stock of watches set with and without diamonds; scarf pins; rings in endless variety; cuff buttons, studs, earrings and all articles handled by first-class jewelers.

A member of the firm said that they have already hundreds of orders selected to be delivered before Christmas. A wise customer will see the advantage in coming early to avoid the rush and find the line more complete just now than later on.

CHRISTMAS JEWELRY.

Two Brothers of Boston Agree to Die Together.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BOSTON, Dec. 11.—Marion Fitzgerald, aged fifty, an ex-priest, and his brother Edward, forty-five, were found dead in bed this morning at their lodging house, No. 37 Kneeland street. There was no trace of foul play and an agreed suicide is the only theory that seems at all accountable for the death of the brothers. Sunday afternoon was the last time that the brothers were seen alive. They were found dead in bed by the third brother. To all appearances they had died peacefully to die as if by mutual agreement. The room was in great confusion, clothing, a few books, dishes and miscellaneous articles were scattered about. The doctor who was called said that they had been dead about twenty-four hours.

The Wanamaker Store

Two Weeks from Today

And Santa Claus Will Have Come and Gone!

Do you want to be hurried and flurried among the jostling, anxious throngs of next week? Or do you prefer the easier shopping of these middle-of-the-week days this week, while stocks are still full, and varieties broad and satisfying?

Choose the best, and be most comfortable about it, today—each day nearer Christmas will make you more anxious, crowds greater, stocks smaller.

Was ever promptness more profitable?

Won't Christmas be a happier time, if you get the worry and work of Christmas shopping off your mind early?

One thing is certain, past peradventure—the presents you buy here this week will be choicer and handsomer than can be found anywhere later.

The finest and broadest stocks of Christmas gift-things ever assembled invite you to Wanamaker's today.

CHRISTMAS CANDIES

What would Christmas be without candies? The purest, most wholesome, most delicious Candies made are Wanamaker's. Test that for yourself, as thousands of other knowing people have.

Today 750 people are making, packing and selling candy for our New York and Philadelphia stores.

This proves the public verdict of Wanamaker Candies—Highest quality—fairest prices.

Our 60c candy is as good as any candy made at any price.

Our 20c candy is as pure as any, though of course the materials are not so expensive.

We have a special line of candies in either one or five-pound boxes at 20c a pound—chocolate, chocolate nougat, chocolate marshmallows, mixed chocolates or mixed candies.

Also for Sunday Schools, festivals, or parties,

25 Pound Lots of Candy

or larger, with fancy 1/2-pound boxes supplied or filled,

At 16c to 20c a Pound

No matter what the purpose or need, whether you want one pound, or a hundred, see the Wanamaker Candies before you buy.

More SHOE News

It's hard to keep a constant supply of bargain shoes. Manufacturers cannot always be prevailed upon to feed this sale by letting us have really worthy shoes below their value.

But the tide has turned again—and there's a strong influx of splendid new footwear—in fact,

10,000 Pairs of Shoes

fresh, perfect, excellent, are newly placed on sale this week, at average savings of a third, or more.

They are all shoes for now, too; in leather, cut, thickness of sole and style. What opportunities they offer for the satisfying of your personal wants, or for the bestowing of sensible, useful Christmas gifts—each at real, vivid price-economies!

Before we describe the new arrivals, we must tell you of sundry odd lots at clean-up prices:

Women's $3 Shoes at $1.20—

Shoes of the finer grade, some in small or narrow sizes. Some are soiled by handling, but all are perfect, and worth two or three times the price.

Men's $3 and $4 Shoes at $1.40—

Calf and kid and patent leather; a round-up of shoes that have been soiled or scuffed; no injury that a shine won't cure. Some heavy calf lace shoes in the lot, too. Values run from $2 to $4, with best chances in narrow widths.

And now to these interestingly priced newcomers to the Basement Shoe Store:

Men's Shoes at $1.90—

Wetted and stitched double soles; box calf uppers. Also patent leather and kid. Shoes worth a half more.

Men's Shoes at $2.40—

Winter-weight lace shoes of enamel, grain or patent leather, box or wax calf; stylish lasts and sterling values.

Men's Shoes at $2.85—

Dress shoes of patent kid and patent leather; double soles, wide extension; very soft. Kid shoes of fine grade. Worth $4 and more.

Women's Shoes at $1.40—

Black kid; lace; heavy soles; splendid walking shoes.

Women's Shoes at $1.60—

Fine kid dress shoes; both lace and button.

Women's Shoes at $1.80—

Patent and enamel leather, box calf and kidkin; stout extension soles; lace and button.

Women's Shoes at $2—

Box calf high cut lace shoes that are regularly sold at a staple $3.50 line.

Children's Shoes at $1—

With spring heels, for girls; of heavy box calf, lace, with tip. For small boys, of stout black calf broad, easy soles; thick tips.

Other spring heel shoes for children, at 75c, 85c, $1.20 and $1.40, depending on sizes; and a saving of a third or more on every pair.

Boys' Shoes at $1—

Strong calf shoes with heels; sizes up to 2. Larger sizes cost $1.25.

Other boys' shoes at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $1.90.
